

Britain's Got Talent and so have members of Girlguiding North Langbaugh. Rainbows, Brownies and Guides gathered at Rye Hills School to showcase a wealth of talent as they embarked on a new recently- launched programme. Parents were proud of our youngest members who entertained us with their singing and acting. Part of Girlguiding's new programme encourages Rainbows to put their drawing and recycling skills to good use in order to gain badges so they made all the props they needed to tell two popular children's stories. Many of the Brownies and Guides were glad of the opportunity to sing a song from the popular musical 'The Greatest Showman'. Members of 8th Redcar Guides sang an Ed Sheeran number.

Amelia Dallin, a Guide aged 11, felt it was really exciting to be on the stage in front of so many people as she introduced each act. Emily Paton, a six -year -old Rainbow, thought it was fabulous to have this experience.
